John,

I can confirm that Louth County Council now wishes to formally withdraw the MAC application for the proposed works at Drummullagh, Omeath as all of the revised works (subject to planning permission) will be located above the High Water Mark.

Kind regards
Jarlath Keaney

Hi Jarlath.

Thank you for your email and for providing the revised drawing regarding the High Water Mark and position of works, which has been reviewed by our technical team.

Should you wish to formally withdraw your MAC application no. MAC20230019 for coastal protection works at Drummullagh, please let us know at this email address.

Kind Regards,
John

Edwin,

Please see attached drawing outlining revised coastal erosion protection works for Drummullagh, Omeath, County Louth. This current design has considered MAC requirements and the correct High Water Mark as available via the MARA website. Consequently, all permanent and temporary works have been removed from below the High Water Mark. Louth County Council now considers that these works do not require any MARA consent and so propose to proceed with lodging a revised planning application to An Bord Pleanala based on the attached design.

It would be appreciated if you could review the above and comment if appropriate.

If you require anything else, please feel free to get in touch.

Kind regards,

Jarlath
